All-party Parliamentary Sustainable Aviation Group
Attlee Suite, Portcullis House, Westminster, July 17th 2008

The Group's objective is:

“To inform the UK Government about the range and scale of the local, national and global environmental impacts that the air transport industry causes and to participate in the debate on how best to control and reduce them, creating an environmentally sustainable future for those who work in, use and are affected by the industry's everyday operations”

Current and projected global aviation CO₂ emissions
